Dear Representative Boehner,

As the oldest national organization dedicated to protecting constitutional rights, the ACLU is always gratified when elected officials cite the U.S. Constitution when discussing critical issues facing our state and nation. However, it has come to my attention that there may be some confusion in your office over the contents of the Constitution and Declaration of Independence.

In order to avoid future confusion, I have enclosed a booklet produced by the ACLU with the full text of the U.S. Constitution. In addition, it also contains information on the ACLU's work to defend civil liberties, a guide to your rights when questioned by law enforcement, and a nationwide directory of ACLU contact information in case you are ever in need of legal assistance.

Respectfully,

Christine Link
