"Official Parade Route" means a route commencing on the Lorain Carnegie Bridge at a point 500 feet east of the intersection with West 20th Street, proceeding in a northeasterly direction on the Lorain Carnegie Bridge to the intersection with Ontario Avenue, turning right and proceeding on Ontario Avenue in an easterly direction and ending at the intersection of Orange Avenue and East 9th Street.
Intersection at Lorain & W 20th. The Q is completely out of sight: 0.76 miles away across the bridge.
Entering Carnegie Bridge from W 20th St. The Q is completely out of sight.
On the Carnegie Bridge; Q is out of sight.
Continuing along the Carnegie Bridge, the Q finally comes into sight. However, the view is still of the back side of it.
The Q from end of the bridge, as the bridge railings begin to lower. Note the person standing; his head comes roughly to the top of the bridge’s sides. This shows it will be next to impossible for those in/around the Q to see demonstrators on the bridge.
Intersection at Carnegie and Ontario, having exited the bridge. This is the closest the route gets to the Q, almost 1,000 feet, yet the view is only to the back side of the Q.
View to the back side of the Q from Carnegie and Central Viaduct (west of Ontario). Note the trees obscuring the view.
Trees further obscuring the view to/from the Q.
Carnegie turning onto Orange; parade route takes sharp turn away from the Q, going under a bridge that blocks the view of the end of the route.
Carnegie Bridge from the Q’s main entrance, where delegates will enter from. It will be impossible to see demonstrators on the bridge from here.
The Q, where delegates enter from. Bridge is far away and out of sight.
